

How far are the topics extracted from the pre interview from those extracted from the post interview? (topics fitted separately per timepoint, compared in the embedding space)

